Recent Mediation

Alexandra has a positive and purposive approach to mediation and has recently worked on the following:

- A mediation arising from divorce involving complex financial disclosure including family trusts, property and family run businesses
- A pre-nuptial contract
- Separation between a wealthy unmarried couple exploring property and pension division in a tax efficient and mutually advantageous way
- Care arrangements for children that included meeting with the teenage children, a detailed consideration of the children's needs, an action plan and improved communication dynamics with and between the parents
- A review of reconciliation, separation or divorce
- Re-establishing contact after father had not seen his children for eighteen months

Alexandra is able not only to conduct full Mediation sessions but Mediation Information and Assessment Meetings (MIAMS) which are required prior to the issue of proceedings to assist parties in finding the right path forward.
